RETURNS FROM ST. LOUIS.

Eugene Edge has just returned from St. Louis, where he spent a week in careful study of the new styles just out and the purchase of midsummer goods suitable to the taste of the most fastidious and that will meet the demands of the people of this community. At his "store on the corner" can now be found everything that is new in millinery, ready-to-wear, neckwear, dress goods, new girdles and belts. In fact, everything in the latest styles is now on display, as he had the goods shipped out by express. The courteous salesladies and salesmen will take pleasure in showing the new creations which are the latest the season affords. Mr. Edge extends a cordial invitation to the ladies of Bryan and College and all Brazos County to call at his store and inspect the many pretty things he has now on display.

MR. W. T. WHITE ACCIDENTALLY KILLED

Mr. W. T. White, who lived a mile and a half from Milano, Burleson County, was accidentally killed last Saturday.

The horse that he was driving ran away and threw him against a tree, striking one side of his head against the tree.

Mr. White lingered about three hours without gaining consciousness and died at 5 o'clock p. m.

Mr. W. L. Turner, who is a brother-in-law of Mr. White's, received a telephone message from Milano about 9 o'clock Saturday night, saying that Mr. White was dead, and he left at once by way of Normangee for Milano, arriving there Sunday evening just in time to attend the funeral.

Mr. White leaves a widow and a large number of warm friends to regret his untimely death.—Madisonville Meteor.

Mr. White was related to the W. B. Baker family of this city, and besides his relatives had a number of friends here.

SCHOOLS OF CITY DISMISSED TODAY

Interesting Graduating Exercises Held in Auditorium of East Side School.

The 1913-14 session of the Bryan public schools closed today. In many respects the session just closed was similar to the many that preceded it, but in other and vital matters, it was widely different. For several years the schools of the city, under the able leadership of Superintendent W. C. Lawson, Principals Kinnard and Bethany and the able corps of teachers, have been making rapid strides in advancement along all lines, and the session now closed was staged on a plane of excellence far above that attained by any session that has gone before it.

The public schools of the city lie close to the hearts of the people. In them our children are to receive their first training and in them the foundation of their education is to be laid. For these reasons and others, it is perfectly natural that our people should feel a deep interest in the schools, and the fact that they are improving and reaching out along higher lines every year is a matter of congratulation for all.

The graduating exercises today, which marked the closing of the session, were held in the auditorium of the East Side school, and were witnessed by a large gathering of the friends and patrons. The program of the day was of a very high order of excellence and was prepared under the direction of Principal A. W. Kinnard, head of the English department, who presided during the exercises. There were ten members of the graduating class, whose names, with the subject of their graduating themes, follow:

Miss Erin Blatherwick, "The Preservation of the Public Health."

Miss Erma Jane Cloud, "International Peace."

Miss Myrtle Estelle James, "Domestic Science in the High School."

Miss Della Margaret Lawrence, "The Honor System in College and High School."

Walton Ransom Cole, "The Restriction of Child Labor."

Everett Conn Gibbs, "The Solution of the Negro Problem."

I. H. Newton Jr., "The Panama Canal."

John Thompson Sanky Park, "Immigration Should Be Restricted."

Charles Stuart Pipkin, "Welcome to the Homeless."

Thomas Searcy Powers, "The New Old World."

Owing to the number of graduates, it was impossible for all to read their graduating essays, and it was agreed between teachers and class that four should read. The method of selecting these four was by drawing, and the privilege fell to Conn Gibbs, Sanky Park and Misses Myrtle James and Erma Cloud. Each essay read was beautiful in thought and couched in purest English. The manner of presentation was also splendid. While the other members of the class did not appear on the program, except the class president, Miss Erin Blatherwick, who presented the class statue, we feel sure the essays read were but representative of the excellence of all.

At the conclusion of the reading of the essays, diplomas were presented to the members of the class by Superintendent Lawson, his remarks being appropriate and delivered with a dignity befitting the occasion.

The two scholarships awarded by the school for the highest average for the entire session were awarded to Ransom Cole for the boys and Miss Erma Cloud for the girls.

The program in full was as follows:

1. Lord's Prayer, by school.
2. Principal's Announcements.
3. "International Peace," Miss Erma Cloud.
4. "The Solution of the Negro Question," Conn Gibbs.
5. "Domestic Science in the High School," Miss Myrtle James.
6. Presentation of the class statue, Miss Erin Blatherwick. Prof. A. W. Kinnard accepted for the school.
7. "Immigration Should Be Restricted," Sanky Park.
8. Presentation of diplomas and scholarships by Superintendent Lawson.
9. Dismissal.

DR. PORTER AT BAPTIST CHURCH SUNDAY EVENING

Dr. Porter, who is to preach the commencement sermon Sunday morning for the A. & M. College, has consented to preach in Bryan at the First Baptist Church Sunday at the evening service. Dr. Porter is one of the greatest preachers in America. He is a native of Canada, where his remarkable talents brought him before the public in such a way that his services were sought by the largest churches in the United States. His services as pastor at White Temple, Oklahoma City, and at Fort Worth and Walnut Street Church in Louisville, Ky. (where the lamented and honored Dr. T. T. Eaton served so long), and at Gaston Avenue Church, Dallas, where he is stirring the city with his marvelous ministry, have been wonderfully blessed of God in the development of the kingdom. It is indeed a rare opportunity offered the people of Bryan to hear so distinguished a divine as Dr. H. A. Porter. Hear him Sunday night by all means at the First Baptist Church.
